

Christmas in Coloma

Saturday morning 5 BMC couples and family and friends headed up to the Clausen Family Barn. Why a barn you ask???

Because the Clausen family had a fantastic dinner and Christmas program at their family barn/theater starting at noon. But first, dinner--- and what a dinner it was. We feasted on cranberry relish, mashed potatoes with gravy, sweet potatoes, three green bean vegetable medley, beef tips in gravy, ham slices, and a double chocolate silk pie for dessert. They serve some of the best food you've ever had!

Then the Clausen family show that lasted 2-1/2 hours of all types of holiday songs with a break in between when people could browse their store of family homemade items and food, as well as snacks, beverages, and of course their CD of Christmas music. There even was an audience participation number! View the pictures to see some the show's talent.

If that wasn't enough, we travelled 3 miles to the Village of Coloma where they were having their own Christmas celebration all day long. We were able to view their cute parade (pictures of that shown), had free hot dogs, enjoyed libations from their bar, and then had our own party in the Coloma Hotel common room where we also had plenty of food to share. Then off to bed dreaming of Christmas memories past, present. and to come. The motel was an old fashioned B & B all decked out for the holiday!

What a great way to get into the Christmas spirit with this wonderful weekend in Coloma! Thanks Patti and AL K. for putting this weekend together!
